

New Holland Pastor Asks Damages After Crash Claiming Girl

One Suit For $25,000, Second
For $10,000, Third For $426 Filed.

BREWING CO. IS NAMED

Death of Girl Happens When Truck Collides With Bicycle Child Rode.

Three suits, growing out of the fatal accident which occurred at New Holland on May 28, 1930, when his 14-year-old daughter, Prudence Ann, was fatally injured, were filed in county pleas court Friday by R. Tibbs Maxey, New Holland minister, through his attorney, Barton Walters.

Anheuser-Busch, Inc., is named defendant in all the suits which ask for $25,000, $10,000 and $426.20 with interest from May 23, 1930.

The first and second suits are by Rev. Maxey as administrator of the estate of his late daughter and the third is against Anheuser-Busch for funeral expenses.

In the first suit which asks $25,000 damages for the death of the child, the petition charges that the operator of the Anheuser-Busch truck which struck the Maxey child was driving at a dangerous rate of speed in the limits of New Holland, exceeding 35 miles an hour; that the car was not under control at the time of the accident; that the driver failed to keep a lookout ahead or he would have seen the girl; that he failed to give any signal of the presence of the car as he approached the girl; that he used no ordinary care or that he would have been able to slow down or stop the car before striking the girl.

The second suit for $10,000 for injuries and pain suffered by the child carries the same statements as the first suit. The petition states that through the wrongful acts, neglect and default of the driver of the car and the injuries and resulting pain, shock and fright, and loss of brain and blood the child suffered damages worth $10,000.

The third petition is filed by R. Tibbs Maxey, personally asking judgment in the sum of $426.20 for funeral and medical expenses caused by the accident.

He charges that he employed physicians and surgeons which cost him $26.50, that an ambulance cost $10 and that burial expenses totaled $389.70.

The child met her death when she is said to have been riding her bicycle on the highway near the New Holland cemetery. The car driven south, struck her and within a short time she succumbed.

The child is survived by her father, Rev. R. Tibbs Maxey, her mother, Mrs. Maude Maxey, the following brothers, R. Tibbs, Jr., John, Mark, Victor Lee, Wyn Bryan, and sisters, Isabel, and Mary Ellen.

All of these beneficiaries were bequeathed personal property in the will.

Mr. Morris devised that his property on N. Court-st be sold by the executors, and after all expenses had been paid the remainder to be given to his four official heirs, Emmitt Morris Evans, Morris Washburn, Betty Jane Morris and Helen Lucille Evans.

The will was written April 29, 1930 in the presence of Meeker Terwilliger and Elliott L. Voll.

The estate is estimated to be worth $7,000.

Fred R. Nicholas, O. S. Howard, and George Grand-Girard were appointed appraisers.

May Be Choice for Philippine Post

Should the Senate fail to approve President Hoover's nomination of Nicholas Roosevelt for the post of Vice-Governor of the Philippines, it is considered likely that Arthur F. Fischer (above), director of forestry, will succeed to the post. It is expected that both Americans, Filipinos would pool their efforts to obtain Fischer's appointment.

HOME KIDDIES ENJOY OUTING

Play Golf Friday Afternoon
As Guests of Miniature Course Owners.

An afternoon of Miniature golf was enjoyed Friday when 42 girls and boys from the Children's Home were entertained by the owners of the golf course. The children were brought to the course and returned to the Home by members of the Rotary Club.

These boys and girls being disappointed the Friday of last week on account of the rain were watching the sky with hopeful eyes that the rain Friday would stay away until they had enjoyed their first round of golf, and this time they were not disappointed. Hazy and traps did not interfere with their playing in the least and whether the shot was next to impossible mattered not for they were out to play golf and how they did play.

The boys and girls were divided into foursomes and with the assistance of an older player they had a time of their life learning the fine points of the game. The sponge cake green was really pie for them, and number thirteen with its tunnel, that is difficult to approach was the delight of every boy and girl. Some even shot through the hollow tree on the first shot, or would hit the pipe on number nine and make a hole in one. Every boy and girl was trying their best and well did they do it.

After the first 18 holes they didn't know that the owners of the miniature Golf Course had a big piece of candy for each of them and it just made them feel good for the next round. And after the second 18 holes they all had a bottle of pop.

Some of the younger ones were all tired out and ready to go home while the others wanted more and wondered when they would again be invited to come in and play the game.

Mrs. Goodchild no doubt had a lot of questions to answer about Miniature Golf and some of the boys and girls are hoping they have a course of their own next year.

BELIEVE DEAD MEN LIVED 2 YEARS ON ICE

Norwegian Scientist Causes
Flurry of Excitement With New Theory.

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 30.—A new theory of the fate which befell Salomon August Andree and his two companions, lost in 1897 in an attempt to reach the North Pole by air, indicating they had lived for fully two years in their Arctic camp before death overtook them, was being discussed with considerable interest here today.

The theory was put forward by Dr. Adolf, head of the Norwegian government research office in Spitzbergen, after a thorough study of the meagre reports received thus far of the discovery of the explorers' bodies in the remains of their camp on White Island, Fridtjof Nansen land.

Dr. Hoel's beliefs, expressed in an official report to the Norwegian government, increased the impatience of scientists and the general public to learn the full story of the ill-starred polar attempt, which will not be known until the sealer Bratvaag arrives with the bodies of the explorers and other relics found embedded in the ice of the camp.

"From evidence received so far, it is not out of possibility that Andree and his two companions lived for two years on White Island," said Dr. Hoel.

"The broken ice of this section would have made it impossible for them to go to any distance. They were well equipped with provisions, guns and munitions, it seems that after reaching White Island they built a stone hut and depended on their rifles for food after their own supplies gave out.

"The severe winter, completely covered over their hut, and spring laid a film of ice on it. Another winter's snow then covered the hut and the stones cracked, sending the three men to certain doom."

Dr. Hoel's report gave some indication of the terrific struggle the three men must have waged against death, as well as of their long trying vigil in the icy wilderness of the north, awaiting rescue that never came.

"It must have been the most desperate and grimest imprisonment of all history," the scientist said. "Perhaps Andree's diary will tell us something of it. It is certain. However, that Andree's balloon never traveled very far."

UPRISINGS IN SO. AMERICA DRAW NOTICE

State Department Observers
Watch Effect of Latin American Unrest.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Political uprisings and disorders in four Latin-American republics held the interest of the administration today as state department observers carefully watched the effect of South American unrest on international relations.

While a military Junta appeared to have restored order in Peru following a successful revolution, administration advisers revealed threats of further rebellions in Brazil and Argentina, with disorders still rampant in Cuba. The widespread area of political unrest disturbed administration leaders, because of the huge American and European investments in the affected republics and the unwholesome effect upon international commerce.

The American government however, will make no move toward intervening in any of the republics unless and until the lives or properties of neutrals are endangered. Thus far, there have been no reports of damage to Americans or Europeans in the uprisings, aside from the capture of an American naval aviator by the Peruvian militaryists, who overthrew the Legua government. Outsiders were protected in Peru while reports from Brazil and Argentina indicated there was no danger to foreigners.

QUESTIONS ARISE
The state department shortly will have to concern itself with the question of recognizing the military Junta in Peru. Under international law, many questions enter into recognition but the American government has laid down a general policy of recognizing governments only when the new regime is sufficiently well fixed to protect life and property and maintain order.

It has never maintained a policy of refusing recognition to defacto governments, which entered into power by revolution since the American government itself came into existence by rebellion.

The ultimate recognition of the new Peruvian government may hinge upon its treatment of ex-President Legua. The former President was a firm friend and admirer of the United States and aided American capital in initiating business in his country. He has many friends in the United States.

BRAZIL DISTURBING
The news from Brazil was rather disturbing. Dispatches indicated a revolt in the state of Rio Grande do Sul under the leadership of Juan Francisco de Sousa. Reports said all federal troops had been confined to their barracks, a move usually undertaken when the government fears an army revolt. Dispatches were rather vague and the state department was seeking further information.

In Argentina, heavy troop detachments were guarding President Hipolito Irigoyen, known as the "mole" because of his retiring nature. Three Argentine destroyers were stationed in the harbor at Buenos Aires. There appeared considerable mystery around Irigoyen's military maneuvers.

The Cuban difficulties were centered in Maximo Gomez, a small town which has been the scene of prolonged rioting. The Cuban government threatened to invoke martial law if order were not restored by local authorities. There were some arrests made at Cruces, a small town in Santa Clara province, the local police charging their prisoners with plotting to overthrow the government.

BROWN IS TAKEN TO WORK HOUSE

William Brown, Perry-twp., was fined $600 and costs by Judge E. A. Brown earlier in the week on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, was taken to the Cincinnati work-house Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Carl Porter where he will serve out the fine.

Brown was arrested by sheriff's authorities after he had threatened to kill his wife, and ran her around the house with a butcher-knife and corn knife. When arraigned in probate court he pleaded guilty to the charge and his wife warned the court, if he was not given a stiff sentence, she would file another charge to put him away, and considering him dangerous when he became intoxicated, Judge Brown gave the man a large fine which will probably keep him in the work-house for a year and one-half.

Scion of Leading Theatrical Family Is to Follow in Forebears' Footsteps

Ethel Barrymore Colt Prepares to Carry on Family Tradition of Drews and Barrymores to the Ninth Generation.

JOHN DREW

By Alice Alden

NEW YORK, August 30.—Will the rich mantle of the Barrymores and the Drews drape its graceful folds around the slim young shoulders of Ethel Barrymore Colt?

TRUE TO TRADITIONS
The 18-year-old daughter of Ethel Barrymore, true to family traditions, has elected to make her debut not in a flower-decked ballroom but in the theatre, as a member of the cast surrounding her famous mother in a dramatization, by Daniel Reed, of Julia Peterkin's prize-winning novel, "Scarlet Sister Mary."

And true to theatrical traditions that decrees that an artist should sacrifice personal charm and beauty to whatever facial and physical characteristics may be demanded by the script, both Ethels are going to play in blackface. Miss Barrymore will play the title role of the Carolinian negress in her vivid Odyssey from youth and a primitive joy in life to old age and a true spiritual understanding. Ethel the younger will take the important part of the mulatto child. This will mark the first occasion on which any member of America's famous royal family of the theatre has ever appeared in blackface make-up.

SHADES OF GLORIOUS PAST
One does not need to be spiritually inclined to imagine that an unseen audience will people the auditorium, or rather the stage of the theatre in Cleveland on Aug. 29, when young Ethel Barrymore's mother, the brilliant, charming and graceful "Georgie" Drew, Georgie's parents, the famous John and Louisa Lane Drew, her father, the debonair and delightful Maurice Barrymore, and her late-granduncle, the never-forgotten John Drew, that disembodied spirits have the power to materialize them surely these ghostly members of the Barrymore and Drew families will be on hand to see if their descendant is to keep burning the torch of the drama that has been held aloft by such worthy hands for so many generations.

CHOSE OWN CAREER
Ethel Barrymore allowed her youthful daughter full power to choose her career and to indicate whether she wished to take her place in fashionable society or to face the rigors and arduous demands of the theatrical profession. Young Ethel completed her education at the convent of which both her grandmother and mother had been students, and then went aboard to a fashionable finishing school in Italy. PAYNE MURDER CASE ENDS AS MAN SUICIDES

Amarillo, Texas, Attorney
Blows Self Apart With Dynamite in Jail.

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 30.—The A. D. Payne murder case came to a dramatic end today when Payne took his own life in the Potter-co jail here in a manner identical to that which he used to kill his pretty young wife two months ago.

Barely 12 hours after he had been indicted for blowing his wife to bits with a charge of dynamite, Payne lay down in his jail cell with a quantity of the same explosive under his body. He was killed instantly, badly mangled.

His jailers were at a loss to understand how he obtained the explosive with which he took his life. Yesterday afternoon he talked with his children, Leola and A. D. Jr., after which he wept and wept. There was much sympathy in getting him back into his cell.

After midnight Payne asked that he be left alone and a group of prisoners who had been gathered around him dispersed to their bunks. A short time later the explosion occurred. The upper portion of Payne's body was badly mangled, the chest being torn away. Death was instantaneous.

One of his fellow prisoners, who returned to Payne's side after the rest of the inmates had left, was standing nearby when the charge of dynamite exploded. He was hurled against a wall and partially stunned, but was otherwise uninjured. He said that he had not seen the explosion, which came near to taking his own life.

Payne confessed several weeks ago that he placed a triple charge of dynamite, incorporated in a crude infernal machine, in Leola's mailbox and that it took her life. The case was sensational through an Amarillo newspaper section and her young son was permanently crippled.

Payne, an attorney, admitted the crime after police had obtained statement from Mrs. Payne Thompson, his former secretary, in which she revealed the infernal machine for him.

In his confession, covering more than 40 typewritten pages, Payne said that he had tried a half dozen times to take his wife's life, experimenting with guns, poison, gas, explosives and the possibilities of drowning. It was his second home-made infernal machine which killed her.

Authorities here were attempting today to communicate with relatives of the dead man.

DENY RE-HEARING FOR CAMBRIDGE CO.

Utilities Commission Turns Down Application On Increase in Rates.

The public utilities commission has denied the application of the Cambridge Home Telephone company, of which Earl W. Lutz, this city, is manager, for a rehearing of its petition for an increase in rates, rendered by the commission last month.

It is possible the case will be carried to the supreme court.

The Cambridge Company operates exchanges in Cambridge and Byesville.

This case is of high interest to local residents for the Cambridge company is owned by the same company which controls the local telephones and the city is now in the midst of a rate fight.

For the past month, the baby which is not over five or six weeks old has been at the home of L. A. Brown, probation officer, and cared for by Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Thompson will probably be given a hearing before Judge E. A. Brown Monday.

LAWS GOVERN SCHOOL ZONE

No Parking In Front of High School Is One; Auto Club
Aids In Marking.

Motorists are being warned, that with the opening of schools Tuesday, the problem of watching out for children will be renewed. Through the interests of the safety department of the city, the Columbus Auto Club has supplied the city with school posters, which enables motorists to know at a distance when they are approaching a school zone.

New laws recently enacted and passed by city council also forbids autos to park in front of Circleville high school except for loading and unloading passengers.

Another important law which will be heartily enforced by the sheriff's department will be the ordinance which specifically states that no motorists may pass a school bus loaded with children while the bus is loading or unloading passengers.

The latter part of last year many motorists were arrested and fined on this charge. For the first of these, the minimum fine of $10 and costs is given, and then for offenses after this the fine may mount up to the $50 or $100 mark. With many accidents which have befallen school children the past four years, the laws will be rigidly enforced.

William Jennings Bryan said "It is our duty to examine ourselves and inquire whether we deserve the rebuke of Amos; whether our horizon extends beyond the fleshpots. If our hearts are set upon food and clothing and shelter, we may be sure that punishment may be our lot. And we are just as sure of punishment if for the body we substitute the mind and do not rise above the level of intellectual joys."

Laborers Together With God
Phillips Brooks said: "The chisel cannot carve a noble statue—it is only cold, dead steel. Yet neither can the artist carve the statue without the chisel. When, however, the two are brought together, when the chisel lays itself in the hands of the sculptor, ready to be used by him, the beautiful works begin. We cannot do Christ's work—our hands are too clumsy for any thing so delicate, so sacred, but when we put ourselves into the hands of Christ, His wisdom, His skill and His gentleness flow through us, and the work is done. Christ and we do it—not we alone, for we could not do it; yet not Christ alone, for He depends on us."

The Church is Christ's instrument for proclaiming His message to the world. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

What Christian Principles Should Be Adhered to in Dealing with the Labor Problem?

Creamed Comments On S.S. Lesson

Duty called Amos often to go to Bethel and he saw the growing wickedness of those in authority who had piled up great wealth for their luxuries, which was done by oppressing the poor. His wrath flamed out against these wrongs. Amos was a man of puritanic spirit who had a passionate love for righteousness. He was fearless in speaking the truth. He had little education but he was close to God in the open country with the Almighty. His wisdom was from above.

V. 1. "The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake." The words of Amos became the words of Jehovah but he proceeded humbly, laying emphasis upon the truth, and in the final analysis, truth is of God. These two rulers were contemporaries, one ruling in Judah and the other in Israel, both having long reigns. Amos gave utterance to pointed, heart-searching, concise statements regarding the sins of Israel that caused an alarm among the leaders.

V. 10. "Then Amaziah, the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam, king of Israel saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words." Amaziah misquoted Amos for the denunciation was against "the house of Jeroboam." Amaziah was wrong in his statement that "the land is not able to bear his words." The common people were glad to have some way out of the oppression. When one excuses sin, truth is likely distorted.

V. 11. "For thus saith Amos, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away a captive out of his land." The priest wanted the favor of the king instead of joining with Amos in declaring the truth. One charged with declaring truth must count the cost of being fired, persecuted and demoted.

Vs. 12, 13. "Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thou away into the land of Judah and there eat bread and prophesy there." That Amos was a man of wisdom was acknowledged in that he was called a seer. But nevertheless he was not wanted for he knew too much and had the courage to tell it. Amos was charged with desecrating the sanctuary and causing dissension.

V. 14. "Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdsman and dresser of sycamore trees." Amos would not resort to orders or to any ecclesiastical authority. His life history was that of a common laboring man, but that did not disqualify him as a speaker of truth.

V. 15. "And Jehovah took me from following the flock and Jehovah said unto me, go prophesy unto my people." Amos could see the call of God and he could hear the voice of God in the revelation of human needs.

V. 11. "AND I raised up of your sons for prophets, and your young

LABOR DAY DIRT TRACK RACE IN CLEVELAND TO DRAW MANY

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 30.—With the announcement of a 150 mile dirt track automobile race to be held at Cleveland, O., on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1, race fans throughout the country are promised something decidedly unusual in the matter of thrills and endurance in dirt track racing. Not since 1924 when Jimmy Murphy, winner of the 1922 Indianapolis 500 mile race, was killed at Syracuse, N. Y., has there been a 150 mile race held over this type of speedway. This gruelling grind with $10,000 in prize money is to be staged over the Cleveland suburban speedway at North Randall, a mile course which holds the world's dirt track record of ninety-two miles an hour for 100 miles.

Burgess E. Lewis of Indianapolis who has been prominent in the promotion of automobile racing for a number of years, states that he is assured of more than a score of starters for this Labor Day thrills, with the list of entries presenting a veritable roster of the country's most daring pilots, among them being Maurice Rose, holder of the world's half-mile track record over the dirt, with his "Buesenberg Special"; Billy Chittum of Columbus, O., "King of the half-mile boards" driving a Miller Special; Ernie Jones of Canton, O., recognized as one of the most capable drivers of his day; Ken Dunlap, that has "toiled his speedy Frontenac Special" to many spectacular wins; Carl Schemp of Indianapolis, prominent winner over the dirt, along with numerous other speedway favorites.

For a number of years promoters have restricted races to 100 miles or less because of the belief that the hazards occasioned by the grind and wear of a longer route over the dirt were too great to justify such events, however, Manager Lewis feels that owing to the ideal nature of the surface of North Randall's golden oval that it will be possible to prepare it so as to withstand the incessant pounding and tearing of the cars over a route of 150 miles; and believes that this coming event over the world's fastest mile track will prove to be the most spectacular

FLIES ATTACK WHEAT, REPORT

Hessian Fly Population Increases 50 Percent, Set Safe Seeding Date.

Safe seeding dates for wheat will be more important this fall than last, especially in southwestern Ohio, checks on the Hessian Fly population in wheat fields before harvest this year have led entomologists for the agricultural extension service of Ohio State University to believe.

The annual survey, first made in 1918, discloses this year that the fly population has increased approximately 50 per cent. The number of straws infested this year was 6.8 per cent, compared with 4.6 per cent for 1929. In spite of this increase, the situation this year is more favorable than for any year since the surveys were begun, with the exception of last year, the entomologists say.

A group of counties in southwestern Ohio now have infestations which average over 10 per cent, which, entomologists declare, is the point beyond which danger lies, especially if a rapid increase were sustained this year. The remainder of the state has no great amount of Hessian fly present.

Heaviest infestation was found again in Butler county, where 34 per cent of the straws were infested.

The situation for the next year is not alarming, and serious Hessian fly damage is not expected over the state. Butler, with almost three times the infestation of neighboring counties, apparently has maintained its infestation through the practice of seeding wheat early in standing corn.

The safe seeding dates, when are permanently set, are after September 22 for northern Ohio, for Williams, Fulton and Lucas Counties and progressively later to the south. The date for Clermont and Highland Counties is October 3. Wheat sown after these dates seldom is more than lightly infested.

EXTENSIVE EXPERIMENTING AIDS BLIND PLANE LANDING

WASHINGTON.—Two years of intensive experimentation has developed a radio system for the blind landing of aircraft in fog or darkness which fulfills requirements according to an announcement today at the commerce department.

"The pilot receives the desired information with a minimum of effort on his part," said an official of the aeronautics bureau.

"The additional equipment required on the aircraft for use of the blind-landing aids is very simple, weighing approximately 15 pounds.

"The practicability of the use of directional radio as an aid to point-to-point flying has been demonstrated by nearly two years of service given by the radio-range beacon system on the federal airways. By means of this system the pilot can keep accurately on his course know approximately the points he is flying over, and proceed unerringly to his destination."

"Scheduled air-transport operation is thus immeasurably aided; many flights are undertaken which doubtless could not succeed without the use of radio-direction facilities."

The bureau of standards has been experimenting with the blind landing system since autumn of 1928. The object was to provide a simple and effective radio system which, when combined with the conventional navigational instruments would permit the safe landing of aircraft at airports and landing fields under conditions where little or no visibility existed.

The success obtained with the radio-range beacon system in its application to point-to-point flying early suggested its possibilities as a field localizer. With the main beacon used for guidance an airplane to a given landing field, it was decided that a low power beacon with small loop antennas could be employed for marking out the major or any desirable axis of the landing field.

Low-power market beacons could then be used for defining the hazard-free approach to the field.

along the axis or runway selected, and for indicating the longitudinal position of the aircraft, along the runway.

Most of the research was conducted at the College Park, Maryland, experimental flying field. The first successful flights using the system were carried out in July, 1929. The landing beam transmitter operates on an ultra-high frequency of 100,000,000 cycles. The beam is directed at a small angle above the horizontal, and is used in such a way as to provide a very convenient gliding path for the landing airplane beginning from 500 to 5,000 feet of elevation and approximately 2 to 5 miles from the landing field.

Ohio's probable corn crop will be the smallest for the state since 1924 and the second smallest in 27 years, according to the estimates of federal crop reporters. These figures are based on the condition of the crop at August 1.

DON'T BE A SLAVE TO LAXATIVES

Mrs. F. Gebbard, 361 W. 8th St., Newport, Ky., says: "My husband and I were actually slaves to laxatives, continually doing ourselves harm something to relieve constipation. Just couldn't stop. It got to be a habit. We even gave our children laxatives in candy form. Little did we realize that we were only aggravating and not reaching the cause of the constipation. Headaches, nervousness, indigestion and constipation still continued."

Our druggist recommended Carter's Little Liver Pills. He said these little vegetable pills would tone up the liver, stir up the bile, which, acting as an antiseptic, keeps the food from rotting, and poisoning the blood. They are not habit forming and thoroughly cleanse the upper and lower bowel. Laxatives fail to do this. Carter's Little Liver Pills are sold at all Druggists in the red paper box.

Downs-Delaplaine Nuptials

A hundred guest, informally invited were present at the ceremony at the Presbyterian church, which united in marriage, Miss Allison Delaplaine of Circleville and Mr. William Downs, of Cleveland, Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock. Dr. G. B. Work of Columbus, grandfather of the bridegroom, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Delaplaine, pioneer residents of Circleville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Katherine Downs, of Worthington, O.

A short program of music began at 11:15, o'clock, played on the organ by Miss Abbe Hills Clarke. Mrs. Clark Will, sang the solo, "My Love Has Come To Me," before the Lohengrin wedding march played by Miss Clarke.

The bride couple, unattended, entered the church room, through the south door. The single ring ceremony was performed, while the organ program continued.

Bobby Fickhardt of Circleville and Charles Crawford of Cleveland nephews of the bride ushered and opened the doors when the couple entered the church. Mary Fickhardt, the bride's niece held the bouquet during the ring ceremony. The bride wore a black silk suit with pink accessories, and black hat and shoes.

The church for the wedding was quaintly decorated with baskets and vases of pink Queen Anne's lace, asters and gladioli. A branched candelabrum, with seven tapers, burned during the service.

A buffet luncheon for 15 relatives, was served at noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Fickhardt, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Downs left immediately afterward on a short wedding trip and for their home in Lakewood.

The bride is a graduate of Everts and at Ohio State University was a member of Upsilon chapter of Phi Mu. Mr. Downs attended Ohio State University and De Pau University at Greencastle, Ind., where he was affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

He is now associated with the Glidden Paint and Varnish Co., in Cleveland.

Among the guests invited from a distance for the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. David Bradley of Cincinnati; Mrs. J. C. Ellis, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinney of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wood, of Cleveland; Mrs. Katherine Downs, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bower of Worthington; Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Work, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tedrick of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Carruth of Chillicothe.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWERS

The miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. L. C. Shift in honor of the recent bride Mrs. Orville Raso, was attended by 75 guests from Commercial Point and Circleville.

The bride received many beautiful as well as useful gifts. There was a short program before the gifts were opened by the bride.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Luther Peer, Mrs. Alva Peer, Mrs. Dan Runkle and Mrs. Charles Sherman.

SWIMMING PARTY SATURDAY

Ellen Bennett entertained with a swimming party Saturday at Glenwood Park near Chillicothe. Those in the party were Jane and John Mader, Charlotte Moore, Bob and Jim Patton of Columbus, Katherine May, Ann Bennett and her guest Jeanette Motter. Mrs. Frank Bennett, Mrs. Howard Moore and sons Phillip and Howard Moore.

ATTENDS COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

SCHORR CHOICE PROVIDES TEST

New G. O. P. Chairman Faces Job Uniting Independent Republicans.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30—"Elevation of Edward D. Schorr, state commerce director, to the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee should provide a test determining whether Republicans throughout Ohio have the same abhorrence for the kind of government he sponsors as has been shown by the independent Republicans in Cincinnati."

With this comment, Henry G. Brunner, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, announced today that his party welcomed the Schorr campaign leadership created this week by the administration of Governor M. Y. Cooper.

"In three successive municipal elections in Cincinnati," Brunner's statement pointed out, "disgusted Republicans in revolt against vicious government have repudiated the leadership of the remnant of the old George B. Cox organization dominated by Mr. Schorr and Fred Schneller. By uniting with Democrats there they have established a model municipal government and over a period of six years have repulsed every effort of the Schorr-Schneller forces to recapture power. As recently as last fall, with Mr. Schorr directing another of the campaigns to restore the old order, civic-spirited Republicans and Democrats again decisively rejected the things he stands for. Now these same forward looking groups have combined to break the Schorr-Schneller grip on the county in November. Other representative Republicans previously misled by a deceptive doctrine or regularly have signified their intention of joining the anti-Schorr-Schneller movement. Thus it is hoped to make an end of the organization that since the days of George B. Cox, has typified ineptitude, extravagance, special privilege and worse in government."

"In disregard of emphatic popular disapproval of Schorr-Schneller control, the governor of Ohio continues to link his political fortunes with it and promotes Mr. Schorr to state-wide leadership. Thus he proposes that the Republicans of Ohio follow the representative of a political philosophy repugnant to Republicans of Governor Cooper's home city. Thus he encourages the opponents of the fine achievements wrought by the governor's fellow Cincinnatians."

"It will be interesting to note the verdict of Hamilton county and Ohio Republicans generally in passing upon the kind of leadership that Cincinnatians have discredited."

Charlotte and Virginia Caskey have returned home after a three weeks visit with relatives and friends at Sandusky and Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lewis and their band have arrived home from Europe where they spent a lengthy engagement in Paris, London and Berlin.

Mrs. M. C. Kirkwood and children, Lucille and Monford, and Mrs. Kirkwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hammel, spent Friday in Etta, O., visiting Mr. Hammel's brother.
